Both Phones No. 9

WEATHER—For Ohio: Showers tonight; Thursday partly cloudy.

Wonder if there is an unwritten law which would protect the man who sees fit to end the career of an offending umpire?

Since that little incident in connection with the Christian church revivals last week, local bar tenders have been keeping a close watch for patrons attired in clerical garb. Pulpit advertising for saloons isn't the most profitable.

Few people are able to look back over their earlier years and proudly boast that they ever took prizes at baby shows. The two little tots who won the honors among 95 Marion babies Saturday night have certainly been made distinguished early in life.

Misfortune rather than Miss Fortune seems to linger with the Marion ball tossers in every inning after the ninth. The Line Burners have taken only one extra inning contest this season.

Indiana Democrats, so newspaper correspondents of Hoosierdom write, are not in favor of giving William Jennings Bryan another presidential nomination. They think it would be the same as giving the party a ticket to certain defeat. No doubt the colonel himself will have something to say on this point.

After all this talk about the new Emperor of Korea having formerly been a student at Ohio Wesleyan University, it has been finally learned that the youth who at one time sojourned in Delaware, is only a brother of His Majesty. Never mind, Delaware still has her stone quarry and cigar factory.

Mr. Sandies is feeling joyful over the fact that in constructing his fences for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, he has been assured of the support of Tom L. Johnson. Sandies should remember that the convention is a good way off, and that Tom L. is just fickle enough to change his mind and do a little flirting himself.

The question of expense is not the only one which might be advanced as a reason for not holding county conventions to nominate candidates for the state legislature this fall. Judging from the number of ambitious citizens who have been announced as aspirants for the office, particularly among the Republicans, there wouldn't be any room in the convention hall left for the delegates after the candidates had crowded inside.

New York society women are adopting the halo—made on earth—as a new idea in head decorations. This contrivance may serve to make the wearer appear attractive and even religious, but one would think that it would be sadly in the way should a party of ladies ever see fit to engage in a hair pulling fracas. Such an incident might handily result from a particularly exciting bridge whist contest, and would certainly place a lot of first class halos in shape for the second-hand store.

THE COMING MEETING.

The Taft-Foraker strife seems to be growing stronger among Republican leaders of Ohio, and there are many who believe that the trouble will sadly disrupt the party. That there will be considerable warmth generated at the meeting of the state central committee to be held July 30, is generally admitted. Both factions will be lined up strongly and neither will be in a mood to consider any proposition for a compromise.

As far as Marion county is concerned, unless there has been a decided change in sentiment recently, the Republican leaders are almost solid for Taft. It is not believed that the ofraker boosters have succeeded in making an impression here, although Warren G. Harding is, for reasons best known to himself, one of the senator's warmest admirers and supporters. Warren's talk doesn't carry very far with local committeemen.

The question of whether Taft is to be endorsed for the presidency at the meeting next Tuesday is now being generally debated. The Foraker forces are lying low and are not presuming to say how many committeemen will oppose the Taft endorsement. However, the Ohio Sun, one of the leading Foraker organs in Ohio, hints that there will be enough opposition to table any endorsing resolution which may be introduced. On the other hand, the Ohio State Journal, which has been opposed to Foraker ever since the present owner took charge, claims that the feeling in favor of Taft is universal.

Marion county will probably be represented at the state committee meeting by L. B. McNeal, and it is thought that he will be instructed to vote for the Taft endorsement.

THAT TELEPHONE DEAL.

Following is an editorial regarding the proposed telephone deals in Marion and Delaware counties. It appeared in Friday's issue of the Columbus Press-Post.

"Realizing that 'the day of judgment,' so far as it is concerned, is at hand, the Bell telephone trust is moving with all its might to forestall if possible any legislation by the general assembly of Ohio at the regular session next year which may compel it to be guided more by the needs of the people and less by its greed.

Part of the Bell trust's plan is to compromise with independent companies, wherever possible, by turning over local exchanges rendered unprofitable by the competition of the home independent company, providing an arrangement can be made with the local company to permit the Bell trust to utilize the exchange for its long-distance service, which the Bell trust contracts to keep.

Deals of this kind have been made by the Bell trust in Marion and Delaware, and the validity of such combination is about to be tested in the courts as being in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law. Because such combination practically means MONOPOLY in the interest of the Bell Telephone Co.

When the responsible agents of the Bell trust contemplate the fate of ice, bridge, lumber and brick monopolists at Toledo, not all of whom were residents of Toledo, the monopolization of telephone service by such manipulation of telephone service as that Marion and Delaware may not look quite so tempting. For the Toledo plan of prosecution and punishment is only a beginning, and there is no telling in advance where it is going to end.

Which makes it all the more important to the Bell telephone trust to forestall action by the legislature if it can; and which makes it still more important to the people of Ohio to see to it that the legislature keeps its promise to enact remedied legislation for the conduct of telephone and telegraph companies within the state.

Political Talk

MAY OUST BROWN.

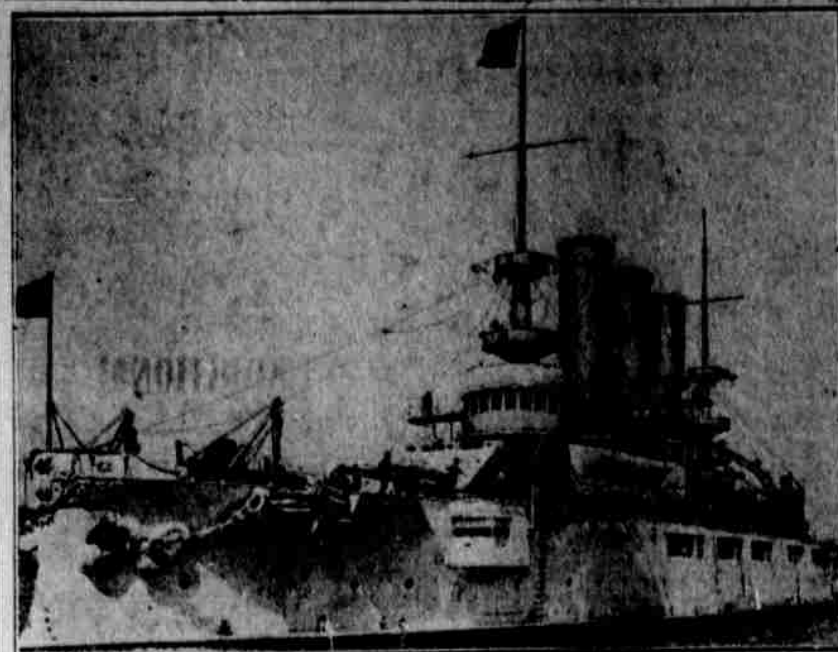

Columbus, O., July 24.—State Chairman Walter Brown, of the Republican Central committee, will have something to fight for when the state committee meets here July 30, under his own call.

If the plans of a number of the members of the committee do not miscarry, Brown will be fighting to prevent being tossed over the Boards as state chairman. The plan, which originated with several of the members of the committee who have visited Columbus within the past 10 days provides for the deposing of Brown and the election of some one else as chairman.

The grounds for the action are that Brown has taken upon himself authority to speak for the entire committee, and to have declared the state committee will do this or will do that, when in fact he had no right to speak for anyone but himself.

For these reasons the members of the committee are sore. They say that but for the unwise talk of Brown and his abnormal appetite for trouble, there would be none of the present scrap in Ohio. Therefore, they say that for the good of the party he must be deposed and some one elected as state chairman who will not usurp so much power.

An example of the Brown actions is cited in the case of the two Hamilton county members. Brown has been traveling about the state seeing members of the state committee. He saw nearly all of them before he went into the seclusion of Middle Bass. To all of them he said that he was authorized by R. K. Hynicka, of Cincinnati, to say that the two Hamilton county members will vote for the Taft resolution.

It seems from Brown's talk with Mr. Cox that he found that he was going too far in this matter.

But this is only one case. Brown has estranged members from all over the state. It is now claimed, by his assumption of authority to speak to them and they are now anxious to get his scalp. It remains only to be seen whether or not these men can muster enough votes to depose the chairman and elect his successor.

To date the friends of the senators, as such, have taken no part in this newly developed fight. They are in high glee over the situation and freely admit that they are enjoying the predicament of Brown.

Mr. Arthur I. Vork, manager of the Taft campaign, is able to be out today, after an illness of several days with a severe cold. He said that there are no new developments in the situation and that he feels that after all has been said and done, the state committee will, if the Taft resolution is introduced, adopt it, with no considerable opposition.

The fact that the astute campaign manager says "if" indicates that the Taft resolution may never be presented, though there is a disposition on the part of the Taft men to go through with the fight and find out just who has been playing with their affections.

It is hinted that there may be several breach of promise suits grow out of the joking done by certain of the state committeemen with the Taft sweethearts.

The action of Brown in playing for delay indicates clearly that he is not ready now to go into the fray. He wants some time to make another canvass of the committee and to marshal the forces.

It is said that a messenger has been dispatched to the far North, where a consultation will be had with the war

A TOY GUN DOES WORK

And in Blind Man's Hands at That—Thieves are Routed.

Thousand Island Park, N. J., July 24.—Totally blind and with his fourteen year old son, armed with a tiny yacht cannon as his only aid, Robert M. Jones of New York, a summer resident routed a band of burglars.

Mr. Jones discovered five men attempting to enter the house early today and calling his son Walter, he told the boy to get the little cannon which was used for saluting passing vessels.

Blank shells were used but the burglars fled pell-mell at the sound of the first shot.

MRS. SAMUEL NEWHOUSE.

Mrs. Samuel Newhouse is said to own the finest collection of pearls in the world. There is no empress or queen. It is said, who has so costly and beautiful a collection. Mrs. Newhouse is an American woman, though residing now in London. She was not always able to gratify her taste for jewels. When very young she became the wife of Mr. Newhouse, who was a miner in Colorado. The young couple struggled together for years, Mrs. Newhouse doing her own housework and keeping boarders to help along. Finally the mining claims held by Mr. Newhouse developed "pay dirt."

No Alcohol No Narcotics No Poisons

Zoa Phora Does Not Now and Never Did Contain Poisonous Drugs, Nor Any That Will Cause the Drug Habit.

MADE FOR WOMEN

No Higher or Better Proof of the Merit of a Medicine Can Be Given Than Found Here.

When Dr. Pengelly first compounded Zoa Phora, he was very careful in his selection of the ingredients to be used. Having in mind at all times the best good of his patients, he determined to use no drug that would be in any way injurious to woman's delicate organism. His years of experience in treating all forms of womanly weakness and disease, enabled him to determine just the remedies needed. Can you wonder, therefore, that Zoa Phora is so successful?

No narcotics, nor any drug that will cause what is commonly known as the "drug habit" are used in compounding Zoa Phora. Formerly a small amount of alcohol was used in its preparation, but now even that has been eliminated leaving the valuable medicinal ingredients in the preparation just as they have always been.

The medicines used in making Zoa Phora are recognized by the medical profession everywhere as the best known remedies for the diseases and ailments of women. The United States Dispensary and other medical books of equal prominence, say in regard to them as follows: "regulates the menstrual function," "employed by physicians in the treatment of uterine diseases," "has met with favor in the treatment of periodical sick-headache," "recommended in debilitated conditions, attended with a loss of appetite," "has extraordinary power to control capillary circulation and remove congestion," "recommended for nervous, hysterical women, with irregular spasmodic pains during childbirth; pains in the uterus," "This is one of the most useful remedies we have for the prevention of premature labor in childbirth, or irregular after-pains," "especially adapted for females who are afflicted with diseases of the ovaries or uterus," etc., etc. Many other statements of recommendations for these remedies appear in the most reliable physicians' books.

Is not this proof sufficient to convince you that Zoa Phora is the most dependable and absolutely genuine medicine for woman's use that can be found? When you add to the statements of these eminent medical authorities, the experience of Dr. Pengelly in his more than twenty years use of Zoa Phora in private practice and again add the testimony of multitudes of women in every state in the Union who voluntarily write words of praise for this wonderful "woman's friend," the proof positive of the superior merit of Zoa Phora, is indisputable. No better, stronger or more satisfactory evidence could be produced and none from any higher authority regarding a medicine exists anywhere.

You need not send away for Zoa Phora. Your druggist will supply you with the medicine already prepared, and compounded in just the right proportions, put up in sealed, sterilized, one dollar bottles. Each package contains full and complete instructions and directions for using the medicine, also a copy of "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women," a booklet containing a lot of interesting and instructive information for women.

PROMINENT OHIO LAWYER

SUED BY A SALESWOMAN
New Philadelphia O., July 24.—Henry Bowers one of the best known members of Tuscarawas county bar, is defendant in a suit filed by Miss Minnie Goldthwaite a traveling saleswoman of Anderson Ind. She asks $10,000 damages.

She says Powers promised to marry her two years ago and that he repeated his promises at numerous meetings in Columbus and other places after that time.

In her petition Miss Goldthwaite declares the promises were made for a fraudulent and wrongful purpose.
